Conditions of Research Corporation for Science Advancement's Cottrell Scholar Award

A RESEARCH CORPORATION FOR SCIENCE ADVANCEMENT (RCSA) AWARD is a contribution to the scientific and academic program of the institution and is to be used for support of work described in the application prepared by the principal investigator and adopted by the institution.

Since scholarly activities by their discovery nature are unpredictable and may require adaptations in order to exploit promising leads, the principal investigator should feel free to make minor changes in the emphasis or direction of the work as it progresses. If major changes are contemplated, prior approval should be obtained.

Financial and scientific reports prepared on the foundation’s forms are absolutely required. The first report is due within 30 calendar days of the 12-month anniversary of the award start date. The final report is due within 60 calendar days of the 36-month anniversary of the award start date. Failure to provide the first annual report may result in suspension of the award and a request to return unspent funds. Failure to provide the final report will result in suspension of the institution from participation in RCSA programs.

The principal investigator is urged to publish the findings in the appropriate scientific journals, acknowledging the support of Research Corporation for Science Advancement.

RCSA awards are true awards to the institution, not contracts with the institution or the principal investigator. RCSA disclaims any rights in the results.
